Subject: REVISION Disaster Operation Guidance #1A, Special Transient Accommodations for Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, 10/2/05, Version 2

Dear Colleagues,

Attached is DOG #1A Special Transient Accommodations 100205v2 for immediate distribution to chapters. All revisions appear in red text (or in the case of the zip code table, in the table title only). This guidance – version 2, revised 10/02/05 -- replaces guidance sent on 9/27/05.

This guidance contains the current list of zip codes eligible for this program, and includes the additional counties that FEMA recently declared for Individual Assistance for Hurricane Rita. Otherwise, the guidance is the same as the 9/27/05 version.

SPECIAL TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS FOR HURRICANES KATRINA AND RITA

INCLUDES CLIENT ASSISTANCE ZIP CODE LIST
BASED ON FEMA - DECLARED COUNTIES AS OF 10/02/05, REPLACES LIST OF 9/27/05

Special Transient Accommodations Program for Hurricanes Katrina and Rita

The special transient accommodations program originally established for evacuees of Hurricane Katrina will now be expanded to include evacuees of Hurricane Rita.

PLEASE NOTE: There are now two separate and different zip code listings – one for special transient accommodations and another for individual assistance. Only zip codes that are FEMA -declared apply to the special transient accommodations program. Clients requesting assistance under the special transient accommodations program must have a pre-disaster address that appears in Attachment B, Client Assistance Zip Code for Transient Accommodations.

The purpose of the special transient accommodations program is three-fold:

- A) to sustain clients who have relocated to hotels outside of the impacted areas, are exhausting their personal resources and avoid having them seek housing in an already strained shelter system
- B) to provide lodging to clients contacting chapters who are in need, and
- C) to allow chapters outside of the hardest hit areas to close small shelters and provide a better environment for evacuees.

Due to the differing situations, especially in heavily impacted and contiguous states, each chapter, in consultation with local community leaders and its service area, may decide to participate or opt out of this program if conditions or resources will not allow participation.

This program is supported by Corporate Lodging Consultants (CLC), a third-party hotel management firm with a strong business relationship with the Red Cross. Corporate Lodging Consultants has relationships with over 90 percent of the hotels in America. Upon being called, CLC will reserve a hotel room, assume responsibility for the costs and bill us at national headquarters.

The accompanying Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) should be helpful in understanding this program.

Special Transient Accommodations Program Extended in Cooperation with FEMA

As per the 9/15/05 announcement, the transient accommodations program originally established for Hurricane Katrina was extended for an additional 30 days for those Hurricane Katrina clients already in hotels. The extension information was communicated to the hotels in the most affected areas.

Red Cross chapters and operations were authorized to extend the stays for evacuees in hotels for an additional 30 days. Hurricane Katrina evacuees should have been advised to contact the hotel's front desk to request an additional 30 days, if space was available. Evacuees from both Hurricane Katrina and Hurricane Rita who are just now checking into hotels will be given the same 30-day benefit.

- WHO: Evacuees from zip codes that were heavily impacted by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita who have found hotel accommodations but have exhausted their personal resources for lodging and where hotels are available. Refer to Attachment B, Client Assistance Zip Codes which lists the affected zip codes. If there is any question as to the degree of damage and whether the client is eligible for assistance, contact the Chapter Client Casework Support Center at 1-800-958-2351 or email casework@usa.redcross.org. The program is also available to move evacuees out of small shelters into available hotel space.
- HOW: Red Cross staff can make reservations for evacuees anywhere in the country. In Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, residents who can demonstrate they lived in the affected zip codes can go directly to the hotels. Corporate Lodging Consultants, at the request of national headquarters has used an email and blast fax to contact area hotels to alert them. Red Cross national headquarters will be billed directly for these hotel costs. People staying in hotels who are in need of assistance should alert the front desk to their status as evacuees.
- WHERE: Nationwide, where hotel rooms are available. The program is most useful outside the hardest-hit storm-ravaged areas where hotel rooms are available. Chapters and operations can use this program anywhere in the country.
- WHY: To enable evacuees to maintain their hotel rooms once they have run out of personal resources, to avoid moving additional survivors into already strained shelter situations and to accommodate evacuees on the air-lifts to multiple cities.

HOW TO GET HOTEL ROOMS

Procedure for requesting a room directly from CLC for one, two or three families:

As you begin this process, be aware that you may have a wait before the hotel room is available, and may have to address needs of clients as they wait.

Verify (through driver's license, utility bill, etc.) that the client's primary residence is from an affected area, and conduct and document the casework.

The chapter will contact CLC by calling 1-866-350-5539. The client is not to be given this number. Use the attached template as a guide for information to provide to CLC by e-mail, phone or fax.

This can be sent 24 hours day, for one or two family requests only, to CLC directly.

CLC will find a hotel room for the client and make all arrangements for the hotel. The chapter can continue casework, but will not pay for the hotel, nor will the chapter ever see the hotel bill; it will come directly to national headquarters.

Clients will receive two weeks lodging at a time. At the chapter's discretion, clients can be extended in two week increments until further notice. If the client has previously paid for their nights in the hotel, they can file with FEMA for reimbursement.

Procedure for shelter closure and requesting multiple rooms (four or more) directly through the Red Cross:

If chapters intend to close small shelters or require large numbers of rooms, requests should come to the "transient accommodations unit" at national headquarters, at ta@usa.redcross.org. If at all possible, submit your request using the template attached, or include the pieces of information requested via e-mail. Only where internet access is not possible, call 866-489-6760 but email will speed the process. These requests will be bundled and forwarded to Corporate Lodging Consultants.

In some areas, turn-around time on requests may be considerable, even overnight. You may email 24 hours a day, but the phone is open only 7AM-9PM EST seven days a week.

Verify (through driver's license, utility bill, etc.) that the client's primary residence is from an affected area, and conduct and document the casework.

The chapter contacts the hotel coordinators at national headquarters by emailing ta@usa.redcross.org. The client is not to be given this number or email address. (E-mail is preferred.)

The hotel coordinators will communicate with CLC to find the appropriate number of rooms. The chapter can continue casework, but will not pay for the hotel, nor will the chapter ever see the hotel bill – it will come directly to National Headquarters.

FAQI have a question about this program. Who can I call?

Please do not call – use the email contact: ta@usa.redcross.org

CLC cannot answer issues about this program, please email as above.

Is the Red Cross responsible for incidentals, room service or damage to the room?

No; the client is responsible for everything except payment of the room fees and any taxes from which the Red Cross is not exempt. Any other charges or issues are directly between the hotel management and the client (as a guest of the hotel).

The client wants to stay in a particular hotel, or in a particular neighborhood. Is that possible?

The large scale of this program prohibits almost all special requests. In many areas, room availability is so limited that any room is preferable to no room.

What if the client is already in a hotel and wants to stay there?

Every effort will be made to make that happen, but it cannot be guaranteed. The client may have to move. The scale of this program limits special requests, and if our third-party hotel partner does not already have a contract with a particular hotel, the client will have to relocate if they wish to participate in this program.

Who is CLC and why are we using them?

Corporate Lodging Consultants (CLC) is a company that finds and books hotel rooms, usually at a discounted rate. The Red Cross has been using them for several years to assist with staff hotel rooms on large nationally-administered relief operations, and for some clients. They have a proven track record, and are a partner with the Red Cross in this particular effort.

What if I can find a room for a client on my own?

CLC is very busy, and if you only need a few rooms, you may be able to find rooms for your clients. Contact the hotel and ask if they are familiar with Corporate Lodging Consultants. If they are, you may direct them to this website so that they can register with CLC for this program: <http://www.corplodging.com/arc>.

If they are not familiar with CLC, give them the website so they can learn the details of the hotel-to-CLC transaction; we have had great success with hotels joining the program.

My client drove five states away to be near relatives, and they believe the hotel room found for them is too far away from those relatives. What can be done?

In most cases, the client will have to decide if they want the offered hotel room, or not. This is a nationwide effort, with tens of thousands of room requests, and it is not always possible to meet every preference.

We have 20/100/200 families in a shelter and we were only offered 10/50/100 hotel rooms. What do we do?

Apply casework decisions to provide rooms to those clients that you can. We will continue to work to find additional rooms for the rest of the clients.

The hotel wants to eject my client for cause – what do I do?

The hotel/guest relationship is the same as when anyone is staying in a hotel, in this case, we are simply paying for it. You must make a casework decision before requesting a new hotel.

The hotel wants to verify this program. What should I do?

This program is so popular the phone lines are often busy. Direct the hotel to this CLC website, which contains all information the hotel will need for registration and billing: <http://www.corplodging.com/arc>. This will assist us in keeping phone lines free to help clients.

How is this program being rolled out?

We targeted areas in the severely affected region to keep clients in hotels, as the shelters nearby were full. We communicated this to hotels via “blast fax.” In some cases, hotels have taken it upon themselves to forward the fax to other hotels in their chain, and the program expanded. We have not been turning down those requests.

In addition, we developed another method for states not in the targeted areas. When clients approach a Red Cross chapter, and if a shelter is not the best solution, the chapter requests lodging for the client through a special email address.
